

Curriculum Corner

April 2024

CONTENT SPOTLIGHT

What is going on with TikTok? Is the government overstepping? What are the chances of a total ban? Help students understand this complicated current event with our TikTok Ban CER Lesson Plan.

SOCIAL STUDIES UPDATES

Start prepping for Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month with our pre-made Activities.

Can social studies teachers use Gale to help students personalize history? Gale's Heather Bassett and Cynda Wood explain how in this eSchool News Article.

Help your students better understand mental health with our Mental Health Awareness Materials.

STEAM UPDATES

What are estuaries? Why should students care? Utilize our new Estuaries Topic Page within Gale In Context: Environmental Studies to find out.

May is National Inventors Month. Help your students learn more about famous inventors and their inventions with our Themed Materials.

Teach your Middle Schoolers about what they can do in the fields of science and technology with our Science and Technology Careers Lesson Plan.

ELA UPDATES

Ready to compare Gale and Google side by side? Check out our blog post: Gale Vs. Google: See Who Wins in your Classroom.

Looking to incorporate our Advanced Search capabilities into your learning community? Our Advanced Search Tip Sheet can give you some pointers.

Gale is here to support your Media Literacy curriculum. Get the word out with this Media Literacy Flyer.

ELEMENTARY UPDATES

This Arab American Heritage Month, teach about influential Arab American figures with Gale In Context: Elementary. View the activity Here.

Emotions are hard, but Gale In Context: Elementary can help students figure them out! Utilize our Emotions KWL Activity to get started.

Help your students develop their search skills with our Searching Skills Scavenger hunt!

Have questions, comments, or suggestions about our Curriculum Corner Newsletter?

Reach out to Christine Schneider at christine.schneider@cengage.com.